ROUNDTOWN

ONCE a year the primitive art of pit barbecue is practiced by the Pickaway County Cattle Feeders Assn. . . . It's a 24-hour ritual, and last night was begun at the Bill Richards farm on the Canal Road in preparation for tonight's annual beef barbecue . . .

The ritual started with the digging of the pit by Dale Bowers . . . At about 7 p.m. the fire crew under the supervision of Hewitt Cromley and Harold Riffel burned old fence posts . . . After five hours of burning when a bed of red-hot coals about 18 inches deep accumulated, a thin layer of sand was spread and then Pete Everhart, the high priest of the ceremony, begin his firewalk . . . Pete got down into the pit and placed big chunks of beef, carefully wrapped in a cooking parchment and muslin, atop the sand and coals . . . The workers covered the pit with tin roofing and sealed this cover with a layer of dirt making a giant natural oven. . . . Eighteen hours later, about 6 p.m. tonight, the pit will be opened and the succulent beef will be sliced for the annual feed . . . The workers last night included those already mentioned plus George Hamrick, Wayne Evans, John Bell, Ralph Stir, Don Courtright, Robert Liston, and the spectators were Bill and Grace Richards who have so graciously provided the site for the event, Dorothy Hamrick, Dick Jones, and the Editor . . .

During this ritual, sweet corn was roasted over the coals . . . Steaming hot and drenched in butter, it was just about the finest eating imaginable . . . There was "canal water" on hand to quench the thirst, and games called "meat axe", "night baseball" and "grandma" for entertainment.

DID you know there was once a stone quarry in Washington Twp. operated by Mrs. B. Z. McCoy? There was an ample supply of blue sandstone in the quarry . . . There was a stone wall in front of Park Place (where the Ford Garage is now located) and the stone was cut at the McCoy quarry and hauled to Circleville . . .

One could buy cellar jams under eight feet in length for a dollar, cistern and well covers for $2.50, paving blocks for 15 cents a square foot, stone gate posts for a dollar, hitching posts for a dollar . . . It cost a dime to have a hole drilled in the post . . . Water and milk troughs were priced from $6 to $20 . . . Curbing was eight to 14 cents per lineal foot, and there is undoubtedly some of this curbing still existing in Circleville . . .

Ralph Z. McCoy still lives on the farm where the quarry was located . . . His mother moved to Washington Twp. from Ross County a few years after his father died . . . The farm was purchased in 1896 from Lewis and Florella D. Leist . . . The quarry was located in a gully at the rear of the farm just east of what is now Marion State Park.

More Tickets Printed For Ohio Lottery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—It was a long night for Ohio Lottery employees. One million extra tickets were printed Wednesday, and lottery commission personnel were scheduled to work until about 5 a.m. packaging the tickets to get them to banks today for distribution, a lottery spokesman said.

The second printing brings the number of tickets produced for the first drawing Aug. 22 to 14 million, the spokesman added.

Tickets from the second printing will lack the phrase "commemorative issue" but will be just as good for winning as the first 13 million, the spokesman said.

Banks in Columbus, Cincinnati and "especially in the Cleveland area" ran out of tickets, the spokesman said, amid reports of phenomenal sales.

At The French Quarter, a Cleveland outlet, an attractive woman sat outside and sold out the retailer's supply of 8,000 tickets, the spokesman said.

One woman at another outlet bought $250 worth of tickets with $20 bills. The banker who supplies the sales agent with tickets also was in the shop, and the merchant asked for verification that the bills were good.

"We know they are good because we just gave them to her," the banker replied.

The spokesman said the second printing was forced because some banks even ran out of reserve supplies, meaning some agents were waiting for tickets. Some agents are wrongly requiring purchasers to sign their tickets, the spokesman said.

"The only time a guy has to sign a ticket is when he's a winner," the spokesman said.

LOST ARTS—In a museum-like diorama at the Illinois State Fair, Mrs. Grace Adler lets a spectator feel the softness of geese down while collecting feathers from a live goose during her goose-plucking demonstration. Her husband, Charles, background, demonstrates the art of wood shingle making.

U.S. Could Lose Bases In Greece

WASHINGTON (AP) — Greece's breach with NATO over Cyprus threatens to open a gap in the Atlantic alliance's southern flank and raise the possibility the United States might lose important military base rights, Pentagon officials say.

Officials said they were uncertain how far Greece intended to go with its announced plan to pull its military forces from NATO.

Some officials suggested the Greek move might be a maneuver to pressure the United States into taming the Turks, who appear bent on establishing a firm hold over wide areas of Cyprus. In that case the break could be only temporary, they said.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey, a former U.S. ambassador to Cyprus, told newsmen on Wednesday that "we have not as yet formed a judgment as to the full extent of Greece's intentions."

He rejected as "plain baloney" suggestions that the United States was tilting toward either Greece or Turkey, both of which have been U.S. allies for many years.

But, while deploring Turkish attacks on Nicosia and Greek Cypriot positions, the State Department supported the idea of some autonomy for Turkey.

It was learned that U.S. intelligence forecast early this week that the Turks would launch an offensive to take over the entire northern third of Cyprus from Famagusta on the east coast to Morphou on the west, and divide the island into separate Turkish Cypriot and Greek Cypriot states.

Meanwhile, the United States maintained a low military profile. Defense officials said the 6th Fleet was operating as usual. The aircraft carrier Independence and an amphibious group were reported near Crete, at least a day's sailing time from Cyprus.

The strongest U.S. action taken so far was a warning to both Greece and Turkey that their weapons pipeline from the United States would be cut off if they started fighting each other.

Such a cutoff likely would hurt Turkey more than Greece. The Turks are virtually dependent on the United States for arms, aircraft, ammunition and other war supplies. But the Greeks already have some French weapons and reportedly completed a major deal with France last spring to buy more.

Nixon Called To Testify For Ex-Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Nixon was subpoenaed today to appear as a witness for John D. Ehrlichman in the Watergate cover-up trial next month.

The subpoena was filed in U.S. District Court by Ehrlichman's lawyer, Andrew C. Hall.

It said: "You are commanded to appear in U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia . . . on the 9th day of September, 1974, at 9:30 a.m. to testify on behalf of John D. Ehrlichman . . . and to remain until called."

The subpoena was addressed to Nixon at the "Presidential compound, San Clemente, Calif." where the former president moved after resigning his office last Friday.

Ehrlichman, formerly domestic counsel to Nixon, had been one of the former president's closest advisers. There was no indication in the filing at district court that the subpoena actually had been served.

Any party in a lawsuit may issue subpoenas for witnesses without prior court approval. However, the recipient may ask the court to dismiss a subpoena later.

Ehrlichman is one of six defendants scheduled to go on trial Sept. 9 on charges of obstructing justice by attempting to thwart the investigation of the Watergate break-in at the Democratic party's national headquarters in 1972.

It was a genuine, high-stakes international crisis—the kind Richard M. Nixon had thrived on. But four days earlier, Nixon had become a private citizen and Ford the President. Now the white telephone was beside Ford's bed.

A reconstruction of Ford's actions and reactions, based on interviews with White House and other administration officials, discloses that:

—He leaned heavily on Kissinger, repeatedly seeking his advice while "making all the decisions himself," one close aide said.

Park Escapes Assassination

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park escaped an assassination attempt today, but his wife was killed, a presidential spokesman announced. He said she died after a nearly six-hour operation at the Seoul National University hospital of a gunshot wound she suffered during the assassination attempt.

The attempt took place as Park was making an Independence Day address. A man opened fire, the president ducked down behind the speaker's desk and was not hit, but his 47-year-old wife was hit in the head.

Security guards wounded the gunman and arrested him.

A 16-year-old girl choir singer in the audience also was killed, possibly by police bullets.

The government said the gunman carried a Japanese passport, and the Japanese Foreign Ministry said it was issued in the name of Yukio Yoshii, 23, of Osaka. But Yoshii told a television interviewer in Osaka: "I am not the gunman. I am in Japan. Somebody must have taken advantage of my name."

Park was making an Independence Day address to about 1,000 persons in the National Theater to observe South Korea's 29th anniversary.

Witnesses said the man ran toward the stage and opened fire from about the third row. The government statement said the man's revolver misfired, then he fired twice. One bullet struck the desk that protected Park. Another hit Mrs. Park, who was sitting behind her husband.

The young girl was a member of a 200-voice girls' choir that was to perform for the celebration. She was sitting in the front row.

After Mrs. Park and the girl were carried bleeding from the auditorium and the wounded gunman was removed, Park said: "I will resume my statement." He talked for five minutes, then the girls' choir sang for a few minutes. The president received a standing ovation as he left the theater for the university hospital to be with his wife.

Park, who is 56, and his wife have a 14-year-old son and two daughters, 22 and 20. Mrs. Park is a former schoolteacher.

The shooting was the first known direct attempt on Park's life. He became president in a bloodless coup in May 1961, but opposition has grown as his rule became more authoritarian.

Late in 1972, Park amended the constitution to give himself virtually unlimited powers and permitting him to stay in office indefinitely. When demonstrations demanding a return to democracy mushroomed last winter, he banned all antigovernment activities and made them punishable by death or prison terms.

Military courts have convicted 135 opponents of the government this year and sentenced most of them to prison. Some death sentences have been handed out, but several were commuted to life imprisonment and none of the others have been executed.

Turks Move Toward Nicosia

By The Associated Press

Turkish forces launched a two-pronged attack on the eastern and western approaches of the Cypriot capital of Nicosia today in what appeared to be a move to surround the city completely.

"We are in a desperate situation, ready to clutch at any straw to save ourselves or preserve as much as we can," a senior Cyprus government official said.

The camp of the 950-strong Greek army contingent, permanently based on Cyprus, was one of the main targets of the assault, and fighting raged at midday.

The camp, known as the Eldyk, is on the main western highway to Morphou. It lies two miles outside the capital, about a mile from the perimeter of Cyprus airport, still in Greek hands.

Another area heavily hit was a five-mile string of factories on the east side of Nicosia, stretching between the main roads to Famagusta in the east and Larnaca to the south.

The invading Turks reached Famagusta, 35 miles east of Nicosia, earlier in the day. But the Greek Cypriots claimed they halted the other arm of the Turkish drive to cut off the northern third of Cyprus — a force moving toward Lefka on the northwest coast 20 miles from the capital.

Famagusta was under under heavy Turkish and artillery attack. But U.N. soldiers discounted a claim by the Turkish Cypriot radio that armored units had broken through to the Turkish Cypriots in the old walled medieval sector of Famagusta, the second largest city on Cyprus and the island's most important port.

Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides called a conference of Greek Cypriot leaders to probe their reactions on concessions the Turks are expected to demand because of their overwhelming military presence on Cyprus.

A senior Cyprus government official who declined to be identified said: "Since the big powers and the U.N. Security Council appear unwilling to take any practical step to defend the very existence, let alone the territorial integrity of an independent Cyprus, we are in a desperate situation, ready to clutch at any straw to save ourselves or preserve as much as we can."

Turkish Premier Bulent Ecevit said after a meeting with U.S. Ambassador William Macomber in Ankara the United States felt "the most satisfactory and enduring solution to the Cyprus problem would be for the establishment of two separate autonomous regions" for the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

But he said Washington believes such a solution should be obtained at the conference table and not by military action.

The British government said there was virtually no chance of a diplomatic breakthrough to resolve the Cyprus crisis until Turkish troops stopped advancing on the island.

There was an air of unreality in Athens as Greeks streamed to the beaches, although their country was under military mobilization for possible war with Turkey. Shops were shuttered and most government ministries were closed for Assumption Day.

President Pushes Trade Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is opening a new attempt to win passage of trade reform legislation that he has called vital in promoting world peace and U.S. economic prosperity.

With Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and key legislative aides to back him up, Ford arranged a meeting today with three senators who have opposed the reform.

Democrats Henry M. Jackson of Washington state and Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut and Republican Jacob K. Javits of New York have opposed the bill's proposed tariff concessions to the Soviet Union because of Soviet policy on Jewish emigration. Their opposition has been a stumbling block for the trade bill.

The President had another busy schedule today. His calling list also included economic advisers, state legislators and county officials. And he planned to swear in John O. Marsh Jr., a former Virginia Democratic congressman, as his new White House counselor.

Ford was getting a warm reception from his visitors in his first week in office, including 15 governors and 16 mayors of both parties who were invited in for meetings Wednesday.

They emerged praising Ford's candor, informality and promises to give their problems his personal attention.

Gov. Wendell R. Anderson of Minnesota, chairman of the Democratic Governors' Caucus, expressed the new atmosphere: "Once again it's fun to come to Washington," he told reporters.

"There was a general warmth . . . a refreshing change over what we have felt the last two years when we felt we were cut off," said Mayor Moon Landrieu of New Orleans.

Contrasting the sessions with those under former President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Milton J. Shapp, D-Pa., called it "the difference between the sun shining and a dark day."

Ford was touching base from the cities to the Congress.

Weather

Mostly sunny today, high, mid 80s. Fair tonight, low, low 60s. Increasing cloudiness Friday, high, upper 80s. Probability of precipitation, zero per cent today and tonight and 20 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 85; low, 59.

Storms Hit North Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms moved into western Minnesota today after spawning tornadoes and hail in a sweep of the Dakotas.

Scattered thunderstorms also roamed the Southeastern states, parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Missouri and several Southwestern states.

At least eight granaries were destroyed and others damaged by a tornado that hit farmland northeast of Jamestown, N.D., Wednesday. No injuries were reported.

Almost 1½ inches of rain soaked Grand Forks, N.D., and ¾-inch hail hit Rapid City, S.D.

But skies were clear in New England, the Great Lakes region and parts of the Ohio Valley.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 43 at Evanston, Wyo., to 93 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Ford Handles First Foreign Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the minutes before midnight, the white telephone beside his bed rang and Gerald R. Ford found himself facing the first crisis of his four-day-old presidency.

Henry A. Kissinger was calling from home. In a deep voice still shaded with traces of his native Germany, the secretary of state reported on events half a world away:

The Greek-Turkish peace talks in Geneva had collapsed, and the fragile cease-fire on Cyprus had been shattered by large-scale Turkish air and ground attacks.

It was a genuine, high-stakes international crisis—the kind Richard M. Nixon had thrived on. But four days earlier, Nixon had become a private citizen and Ford the President. Now the white telephone was beside Ford's bed.

A reconstruction of Ford's actions and reactions, based on interviews with White House and other administration officials, discloses that:

—He leaned heavily on Kissinger, repeatedly seeking his advice while "making all the decisions himself," one close aide said.

—His first person-to-person diplomacy via trans-Atlantic telephone calls developed almost accidentally.

—He kept a busy, domestically oriented schedule even while dealing with the international crisis.

The first public indication in Washington that a crisis was brewing came late Tuesday night when Kissinger and Undersecretary of State Joseph J. Sisco were called from the table at the Egyptian embassy, where they were at a dinner honoring visiting Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy.

Sometime between 11 p.m. and midnight, Kissinger made his first call to Ford at his home in suburban Virginia.

The secretary reported that he had received messages that fierce fighting was likely on Cyprus, and that the U.N. Security Council was being called into emergency session in New York.

Kissinger telephoned updated information to Ford in the hours before dawn while Sisco met with Turkish ambassador Melih Esenbel at 4 a.m. to voice deep U.S. concern over the Cyprus developments.

Reporters waiting across the street from the suburban home —Ford won't move into the White House until next week— said the President seemed hurried but not harried when he stepped outside at 7:30 a.m.

The reporters shouted questions. Ford walked toward them, smiled and said good morning, and gave a few answers: He said he and Kissinger had "conferred about the matter last night" and that "I have to go . . . meet with the secretary at the White House."

Newspapers and manila envelopes tucked under his arms, a briefcase in his hand, he stepped into the back seat of the black limousine for the 13-minute drive to the White House.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market lost more ground today after an early rally attempt proved both halfhearted and short-lived.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down .71 at 739.83, and losers held a slight edge on gainers in quiet trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said gloom over inflation and general economic prospects apparently choked off the faint buying interest that had lifted the Dow to a gain of slightly more than 2 points at one stage during the morning.

Maremont, the producer of auto shock absorbers, was the Big Board volume leader, down 1/4 at 7 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .20 at 76.60.

Giant Yellowknife Mines, the Amex volume leader, was down 1/2 at 14 1/2. The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks was down .06 at 40.22.

Common Pleas Court Hears Four Cases

Four persons appeared during Wednesday's session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court including one man charged with eight drug offenses. Another appeared for violation of probation and a third for aggravated burglary. The court granted one motion for shock probation during the criminal session of court.

Lester Thimmes, Abernathy Ave., appeared on eight drug-related offenses including delivery of barbituates and amphetamines, illegal use of a building, possession of marijuana, possession of hypodermics, possession of narcotics and possession for sale of narcotics. County prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt agreed to negotiated pleas on two lesser charges and allowed the other six charges to be dismissed.

Thimmes pleaded guilty to charges of possession of demarol and permitting a dwelling house to be used for keeping and dispensing demarol. Sentencing for the two charges was continued until Sept. 11.

A motion for shock probation was granted to Jerry Lee Hill, Toledo, who had been originally sentenced to two concurrent terms of 10-20 years at the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield. The court then placed Hill on probation for three years after suspending further execution of the sentences imposed for two counts of possession for sale of hallucinogens.

Gerhardt also agreed to a negotiated plea of guilty from Robert Shaffer, Columbus. Shaffer was indicted by the last grand jury for aggravated burglary but the prosecutor agreed to allow the charge to be reduced to petit theft. The defendant is an escapee from the Columbus Workhouse. Judge William Ammer sentenced Shaffer to six months in the Pickaway County Jail and ordered the sentence not to commence until the term at the workhouse is completed.

Ammer found Kenneth Willis Certain, Circleville, guilty of violation of probation and continued his probation for five years which will extend until Feb. 13, 1979. Home Grown Solution

Not much thought has been given the possibility, but food prices could stabilize next winter and start to recede the following summer because of a factor which is not generally recognized as having that impact potential.

The vegetable patch, now again producing bumper crops. Almost non-existent from World War II until the great food price take-off following the Russian wheat deal, there were more backyard gardens this year than last and those who worked them liked what they produced if they didn't like the work.

If there is a further gain in the number of these miniature gardening operations next year as expected, they could have a noticeable effect on prices for vegetables as well as on the quality of those served.

The term "home grown" was invented to describe what is garnered from a well-cared-for vegetable patch.

I Shoulda Stuck To Shorts

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—Sam, you kept the pants too long. Summer is waning and you still haven't put the finishing touches on the unfinished slacks my wife gave me for our wedding anniversary.

It was a tender moment, folks.

"You look like a bum during summer weekends in the country," she said evasively. "You stand around like a pall-bearer from Campbell's, in that threadbare dark blue sports jacket and those shiny blue serge pants. Don't you know there's been a revolution in men's summer clothes, particularly trousers? Anyway, I'm going to change all that. Let's go!"

She led me by my nose-ring to a shop in Hamilton, Bermuda, just across the narrow street from where our 22,000-ton ship and some two-pound motorbikes were involved in an ugly traffic jam, to a veddy proper salesman in brick red Bermuda shorts, button-down shirt, tie, and Savile Row jacket. He was kind enough to give us an audience.

"Let's see your largest pair of loud-colored slacks," my wife said. He looked distressed, but managed to get his chin up and marched to the rear of the ancient emporium, a place named Smith's, or something equally indicative of that outpost of Empire. In time, he returned with a bi-legged bundle of wool that would have been too big for Jackie Gleason in the old days when the Abominable Showman was "at leisure" and eating for free off Toots Shor.

"Try these on," the salesman commanded, reaching the molten mass toward me.

"There must be some mistake," I coughed. "I didn't order these. My wife ordered them."

"Cad!" they simultaneously shouted. So I cringed to the rear of the place, slipped them on, and emerged for a fitting — expecting momentarily to be drafted by the Hamilton Fire Department. The salesman exclaimed "Wizard!" My wife, another liar, said "Beautiful!" So she recklessly bought me a second pair — this time in scalding yellow — an alternate for those long, long carefree summer weekends that lay ahead. There was time, just barely, before the M-S Sea Venture tooted and pulled out. Back in New York, we turned everything over to a skeptical tailor named Sam. The same Sam that Joe E. Lewis once employed and wrote a song about.

Sam wasn't up to the challenge, alas. He lost his needle in the recent stock market crash. Our two friends who have homes in the country where males gather in the new finery of our times seem to have forgotten our phone number. My pants will return eventually, I assume, but there's no place where I can wear them any more this summer. If I jogged through Central Park in the yellows, I'd be mugged before I got to the zoo. If I tried the reds at the New York Athletic Club, I'd be asked to resign.

I have two options: 1) just wear them around in the security of the household; 2) ask more popular friends to take them along in a suitcase on their weekly trips to East Hampton, Newport, Nantucket, Palm Beach, Sun Valley, Sausalito, Fire Island and Grossinger's. If they will, I can still do some significant name-dropping the following week when friends ask, "Where were you last weekend?"

Every year about this time the well-known New York sportsman, tour-tycoon, credit-card-king and limousine-hire fellow, William Denis Fugazy, gives a lunch-golf party at his club, the Westchester. It has raised much money for the Catholic Youth Organization, but there was a year when it could easily have been called off forever.

That was the year when, after luncheon, Fugazy invited his merry old friend Francis Cardinal Spellman to take his first ride in a golf cart. The Prince of the Church didn't think it was a very good idea to ride in such a heathen and cowardly contraption, but he hopped in — and off they went.

Pointing out the beauties of the course, Bill accidentally swerved onto the lip of a deep trap. The heavy cart teetered there, momentarily about to topple and crush the cardinal underneath. But it righted itself, and Bill toiled on with his precious passenger. The member of the Sacred College of Cardinals, a Pope-maker in his own right, eventually was moved to speak.

"Bill," Spellman said, "something interesting just nearly happened to you. You were about to be the first man ever blackballed from The Westchester Country Club and excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church simultaneously."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have complete upper and lower dentures and use a standard powder to clean them. Whenever I do I find that my mouth burns as if I had scalded it with hot tea. Have you ever heard of this reaction?

Mr. T.M., Okla.

Dear Mr. M.:
Your letter arrived at the same time that I received a report about this problem.

Dr. Allan L. Abramson, working at the Naval Hospital in Camp Lejeune in North Carolina, stated, "If denture cleanser powders are used as directed they present no apparent medical hazard. However, if accidentally ingested (swallowed) they can cause serious complications."

"And efforts now should be made to prevent their potential misuse, preferably by keeping them in a safe place and packaging those that are highly alkaline in special protective containers."

The potential danger of some denture powder cleansers came to light when a 2-year-old child was brought to the hospital with severe burns around the mouth and throat after having swallowed a denture powder.

When this case was reported similar cases came to light of accidental poisoning and injury to the tissues of the mouth, the throat, the esophagus and the stomach. So markedly alkaline are some of these denture cleaners that damage to sensitive tissues can be as great as those caused by swallowing lye or oven cleaner.

Dr. Blair Fearon, at the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, Canada, has concerned himself about this problem, too. He said, "Actually, what worries me most are the denture cleansers that come in paste form. Even an adult could pick up one of these and mistakenly use it in place of tooth-past."

Dr. Abramson said that "despite the potential danger of the highly alkaline powers we have been totally unsuccessful so far in getting the government's Consumer Product Safety Division to pay attention to our warning."

He adds, "The very presence of these agents in a home constitutes a threat, the magnitude of which depends only on the age and ingenuity of the child.

It is imperative, therefore, that you and all other denture wearers realize that most cleansers are severely caustic when in contact with the delicate tissues of the mouth and throat. Be sure to rinse your dentures thoroughly, to be certain that no powder, paste or solution makes contact with your mouth.

All of these products must be kept away from the prying hands of curious children.

State Employees Union Accused Of 'Selling Out'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An official of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association has accused another state employees' union of "selling out" in a court battle to gain release of back wages for some 70,000 public workers.

OCSEA executive secretary Karl Stewart made the charge Wednesday after it was reported the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees, a member of the Coalition of American Public Employees, sought to file a friend of the court brief in the action on the side of the United States.

The case is scheduled to be heard by the U.S. Supreme Court in October.

The suit contends state employees were illegally prevented by the Cost of Living Council from receiving legislative pay raises between January and March of 1972. It seeks to release $10 million in back wages.

Stewart says the association refused to give its consent to the AFSCME to file the briefs.

The Supreme Court requires that a party wishing to file a friend of the court brief must have the written consent of all parties in the action.

"I feel that the action taken by AFSCME in opposing our law suit is illogical and irresponsible," Stewart said. "What kind of labor organization works against the interests of the people it is supposed to represent?"

Bill Hamilton, a CAPE spokesman, said the OCSEA is taking a "cheap, demagogic shot in the guise of protecting public employees when it may, in fact, be undermining their rights to minimum wage, overtime benefits, safety standards and collective bargaining."

Hamilton said CAPE sought to file the amicus curiae brief based on a court suit it won in 1966 contending that the federal government has the right to impose certain standards on the state when it comes to public employees.

The OCSEA has claimed if it wins the suit, each public employee would receive between $160 and $200 in back pay.

CAPE is made up of AFSCME, the National Education Association and the National Treasury Employees Union.

OCSEA and AFSCME are the two biggest public employee unions in the state.

Hog Prices May Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hog prices may decline next fall but are expected to go up next year as producers cut back because of high feed costs, says the Agriculture Department.

Prices at Omaha early this week edged above $39 per hundredweight, the most since last January when they reached a peak so far this year of more than $43. Last August, however, they soared to around $60 per hundredweight.

The department's Outlook and Situation Board said Wednesday that Midwest market prices may average $34 to $36 for the entire July-September quarter and then drop in the fall to the $32-34 range as marketings rise seasonally.

"Look for smaller supplies of pork and higher hog prices in 1975," the report said. "Farrowing intentions as of June 1 suggested smaller pork supplies in early 1975. Recent sharp increases in corn prices could reduce sow farrowings and subsequent hog slaughter even further."

Miss Miller, Mr. Oiler Say Vows In Lockbourne

MRS. GEORGE BENJAMIN OILER

The Rev. George Collins performed the double ring ceremony uniting Miss Anita Jean Miller and Mr. George Benjamin Oiler in marriage on June 16. The 2:30 p.m. service was held in the Lockbourne Church of Christ in Christian Union in Lockbourne.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Miller, Route 1, Lockbourne and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Oiler of Columbus.

Arrangements of red carnations and white daisies decorated the altar. Red and white candles encircled with scarlet roses and white daisies were lit during a candle union ceremony completed by the taking of communion by the bride and groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore on her wedding day a floor length gown of chantilly lace which featured a circular skirt and a hoop petticoat. An attached capelet blended with the three-tiered chapel length veil which fell from a head piece matching the gown.

She carried three red roses adorned simply with red and white ribbon streamers.

The red and white color scheme was carried out in the gown of the matron of honor, Mrs. Glenda Williams. Bridesmaid Miss Donna Frazier wore an identical gown of white background with tiny red flocked strawberries. The dresses were styled with square necklines and bell sleeves edged with crimson lace.

Both attendants carried a single

Council Of Church Women Hold Meeting

Council of Church Women met recently in the Community United Methodist Church. Devotions were presented by Julia Puckett from the Church of the Brethren.

Norma Toland, president, and Opal Leist, clothing center chairman, gave a report on the clothing center. Mrs. Toland emphasized that although many bags of left-over clothing were picked up by a charitable organization last spring, all clothing taken to the center is offered to the people of Pickaway County, and only that clothing which is not wanted is picked up by other organizations.

Mrs. Leist stressed that this year, even more than in the past due to inflation, there is a need for all clothing, but particularly for children of school age.

Contributions of clothing may be taken to the center, which is located in the Veteran's Apartments, Western Ave., any Wednesday of the month September thru May from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. August 21 is the first day of cleaning and sorting, and August 28 the ladies of the Church of the Brethren will open the center to all eligible people from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Julia Puckett was elected president of the council for the coming year. Marjorie Patton will be vice-president and Wanita Will will continue as secretary-treasurer.

Next meeting for the council will be January 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Good Shepherd United Methodist. All churches are invited to send a representative.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

HER Kids At HIS Wedding?

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband, Jess, is getting married again. Jess and I have three children—a girl, eight, and two boys 16 and 17.

The little dummy who Jess is marrying evidently has never heard that when a person has already had one big wedding (and Jess has), the second wedding should be small and simple. At least that's the way it is in Louisville, Kentucky.

Anyway, Jess wants to use my kids in a big church wedding. He's asked my daughter to be the flower girl, and the boys to be ushers. He never mentioned inviting me, which is just as well, because if I get invited I will not come.

Three questions: Does Jess have the right to use my kids at his wedding? Should he even be having a wedding like this? Should I send a gift?

COURIER-JOURNAL FAN? DEAR ABBY: Of course Jess has the right to "use" your kids at his wedding. They're his kids, too. A bride who has been married before usually has a quiet, simple wedding, regardless of how many times the groom has been up to bat, so if this is her first, she's entitled. And if your sincere good wishes go along with a gift, send one. Otherwise, don't.

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old daughter wears practically nothing but jeans. She spends hours on her hair, nails and makeup before going on a date, then she puts on jeans! (She has a closefit of lovely dresses.)

I keep telling her that I think boys like to see girls in dresses at least part of the time. She has a beautiful figure and looks nice in anything she wears.

She agrees to listen to you and we'd like to here some comments from boys, too.

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER DEAR OLD: It all depends on the occasion, and (I'm sorry to say) what the OTHER girls are wearing. More important than looking "nicenice" is looking "likeeee the others" in her crowd, so don't pressure her, Mother. Let her wear what she feels most comfortable in.

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen this in your column, but I'm sure I'm not the only woman with this problem.

For 23 years I've been married to an extremely handsome professional man. He is very well built and wears his clothes like a fashion model. When he enters a room, everyone wants to know who is he. He is loaded with self-confidence (who wouldn't be?) and exudes charm, wit and personality.

My problem is the obvious amazement and disbelief I encounter when I am introduced as his wife. Some do a double take; others say: "Really?" They do everything but come right out and ask: "What on earth did he see in YOU?"

Although we are the same age, I look older. I'm blind as a bat without my glasses and can't wear contacts. I've fought weight all my life, due to a thyroid condition. Let's just say, a beauty I'm not. But I do have feelings. I've had people insinuate that ours must have been a shotgun wedding. (It wasn't.) Or that I must have had money. (I didn't.) But worst of all are the women who try to butter me up to get next to my husband.

Please put this in your column. I'd like to clip it out and hand it to the next woman who tells me what a "terrific" husband I have, and let's me know it's a miracle that I got him.

Easier, No-Fault Divorces

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Beginning late next month bickering married couples who can't agree can be divorced much easier—if they can agree to that.

On Sept. 26 Ohio's new limited no-fault divorce law goes into effect. Neither party will have to prove the other at fault to be freed from matrimony.

The new law is called limited because it will only apply in cases where both parties agree to a divorce, child custody, alimony and property settlement.

In other cases, the old law will apply—with one party claiming the other was at fault and then trying to prove it in court.

"Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, author of the new law, believes the old way was a farce in uncontested cases."

"In many cases, it made liars out of a lot of honest people who just didn't want to live with each other," Norris said. "Often neither was at fault."

Chief grounds for uncontested divorces under the old law was mental cruelty and gross neglect of duty. As Norris explained it, these accusations covered a multitude of sins—or none. Most courts required the seeker of a divorce to prove his or her case with at least two witnesses. Often the witnesses were children of the marriage.

"This bill will humanize the procedures," said Norris. "It will avoid the deep emotional antagonisms that accompany divorce and make it easier on family and friends."

The new law would permit courts to order up to 90 days of conciliation procedures in any case involving divorce, annulment or alimony.

"This bill does not call for an easy divorce such as the California system where you don't need any reason to get a divorce," Norris said.

He said that in Ohio, if either party objects to a request for dissolution of marriage, the party-at-fault system would go back into effect—meaning one would have to prove the other guilty of one of the 11 legal grounds for divorce currently in the law.

Bill Boosts GI Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans attending school this fall under the GI bill would get a 23 per cent increase in their monthly payments under legislation approved by Senate and House conferees.

They also would be eligible for a new $1,000-a-year federal loan program and would get an extra year of regular benefit payments, 45 months instead of the current 36.

Ending a months-long deadlock, Senate conferees agreed to shelve until next year a provision to provide veterans with $720 a year in tuition grants, in view of adamant opposition by House members. Their main objection was that there might be abuses similar to those that occurred after World War II.

Chairman Vance Hartke, D-Ind., of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee, announced the agreement Tuesday and said he hopes the Senate and House will act quickly so the bill will be on President Ford's desk next week.

'Who's Who' Honors Nine Area Students

Nine area students have recently been notified they will be featured in the eighth annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students". The publication honors outstanding students throughout the nation for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service. Less than three per cent of the junior and senior class students nation-wide are awarded this recognition.

The following area residents will compete for scholarships funded annually by the publishers of the book along with having their biographies printed:

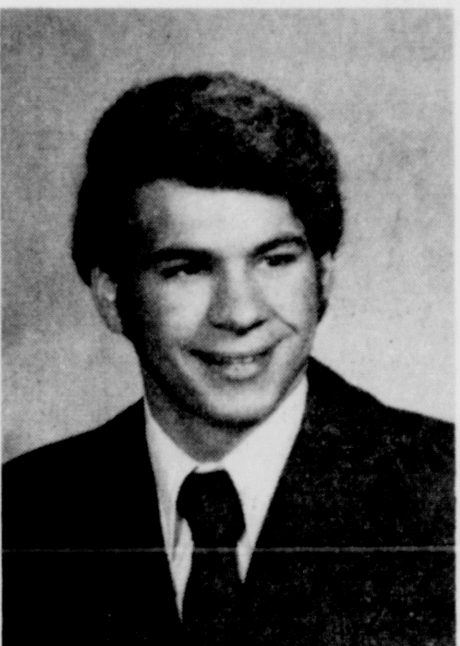

REBECCA ANKROM

Rebecca Elaine Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ankrom, Kingston, graduate of Zane Trace High School, was active in the volleyball team, annual staff, girls' sports, newspaper staff and 4-H. She was the winner of the 4-H Health contest and homemaker of the year award. Miss Ankrom was an honor roll student through her high school years and a member of the National Honor Society. She is currently employed by Craftsman Printing Company in Chillicothe and is considering taking courses in applied business at the Chillicothe branch of Ohio University.

THERESA CONLEY

Theresa Conley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Conley, Route 3, is a senior at Westfall High School. She is active in National Honor Society, Photography Club, annual staff, Girls' Athletic Association and the Art Club. Miss Conley has won the scholarship honor award at Westfall. Upon graduation, she plans to attend Ohio College to study computer technology.

HAL CONRAD

Hal Conrad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Conrad, 1128 McGraw Road, is a 1974 graduate of Circleville High School. He plans to attend Ohio University, Lancaster Branch, this fall.

MARY ANN KARN

Mary Ann Karn, daughter of Mr. and

Mrs. Howard Karn, Route 2, Orient, is a senior at Westfall High School. She is active in French Club, Science Club as its president, and Future Nurses of America as its vice-president. She was a delegate to Buckeye Girls' State and plans to attend the University of Cincinnati School of Nursing.

JOE KOCH

Joe Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Koch, 423 S. Pickaway St., is a 1974 graduate of Circleville High School. While at CHS, he was active in the Hi-Y, and football, wrestling and basketball teams. He was presented the three-year award in both football and basketball.

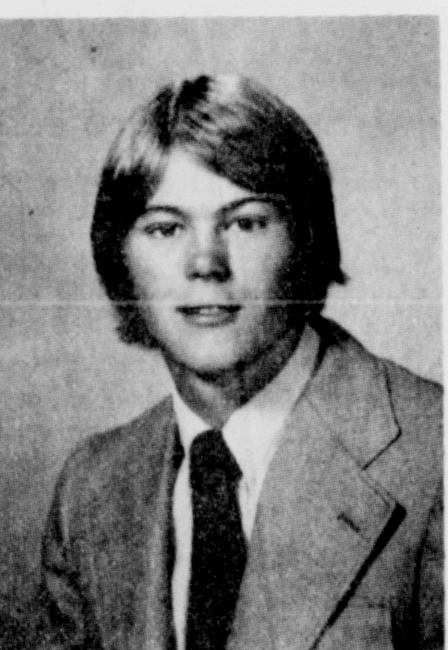

Connie Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrison, Ashville, is a senior at Teays Valley High School. She has been a varsity cheerleader and is a member of the varsity stat team, Future Teachers of American Club, Science Club, choir and wind ensemble. Miss Morrison has been rated excellent in voice solos in district competition and has been accepted at the Conservatory of Music at Capital University.

DEBBIE MYERS

Debbie Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kerr Myers, Route 2, Orient, is a senior at Teays Valley High School. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, Drama Club, marching and concert bands and 4-H clubs. She was an alternate delegate to Buckeye Girls' State last year.

Richard Craig Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benis Lutz, Ashville, is a senior at Teays Valley High School. He is active in Key Club as its president, Student Council, marching and concert bands, Future Teachers of America and National Honor Society. He was an Elk's Youth Leadership contest winner and a delegate to Buckeye Boys' State in 1973. Upon graduation, Peters plans to attend Ohio State University and study mechanical engineering.

Timothy D. Morgan, 19, Route 2, Ashville, failure to yield the right of way.

License Fees Profitable

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Commerce Director Dennis Shaul is concerned that his department usually makes an annual profit on fees charged for licenses and services.

Shaul said fees should merely support services provided, not make a profit for the state. "There's supposed to be a difference between a fee and a hidden tax," he said.

He said he would like to see a variable fee structure initiated to keep fees and costs in line.

Shaul pointed out that the Division of Real Estate, for example, can operate on a $541,900 budget, but will actually collect $909,800 this fiscal year for a profit of $367,900.

Department projections for the current fiscal year also show the Division of Building & Loan will probably make a net profit of $867,083 since it should collect $1,671,583, although it only requires $804,500 to operate.

Overall, the department's profit is expected to total $1.9 million.

All of the excess funds are turned in to the state's general fund, and divisions must operate inside appropriated budgets regardless of what profits ledgers show, Shaul said.

Scioto Chapel Schedules VBS

The Scioto Chapel United Methodist Church, Robtown, will hold Vacation Bible School, beginning Aug. 19, for children ages three-years and older.

A special adult class on the doctrines of the Bible will be conducted by the pastor Reverend John Currens.

Shortage Of Canning Jars May Lead To Food Waste

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Much produce from home gardens seems destined to go to waste because of the acute national shortage of canning jars and lids.

There is even a shortage of home freezers sought by homemakers who took up gardening in the wake of inflated food prices this year.

"Sorry, but there's no way — no way," said Vern C. Schranz, corporate secretary and director of public relations of the Ball Corp., Muncie, Ind., the nation's top supplier of canning jars and lids, when asked what, if anything, the firm could do to alleviate the shortage.

"The upsurge in demand this year is completely unprecedented," said

Schranz.

"In 1973, there was an increase in home canning of 46 per cent over 1972. We were prepared for a similar increase this year or even a 50 per cent to 60 per cent increase.

"But this year's increase in demand over last year turned out to be 2,000 per cent. We are working six days a week, three shifts each day. But, it's not going to meet the demand. We have not the capacity to meet it."

Mrs. Walter Corder was typical. "This year we plowed up part of our backyard and planted a garden. Our garden is beautiful, but our corn and green beans and tomatoes are going to waste. We can't find the necessary jars and lids."

She said she sold her freezer earlier and now can't find a replacement.

A check of three downtown Cincinnati department stores showed none had freezers in stock.

Three supermarket chains reported they have or will have jars for sale, but are limiting sales to one box a customer.

"Never before," said Sears Roebuck appliance salesman Eldon Carroll, "have we had such a demand for freezers."

"The homemakers are looking for the chest freezer and they'll take any size they can get," said Daryl Winders, KMart.

"We had a shipment of 15 freezers come in and they all went in less than a day."

Margurite H. Warren, county extension agent of the Ohio State University and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, reports many calls from homemakers with the same problem.

She advises callers to check smaller hardware stores and second hand stores.

She also cautioned housewives to be sure old jars are not chipped or cracked because this may cause loss of sterilization and food poisoning.

Stanfield Plans To Vacate Post

OTTAWA (AP) — Robert Stanfield, the Conservative leader whose party has lost three elections to Pierre Elliott Trudeau's Liberals, says he will step down from his leadership post.

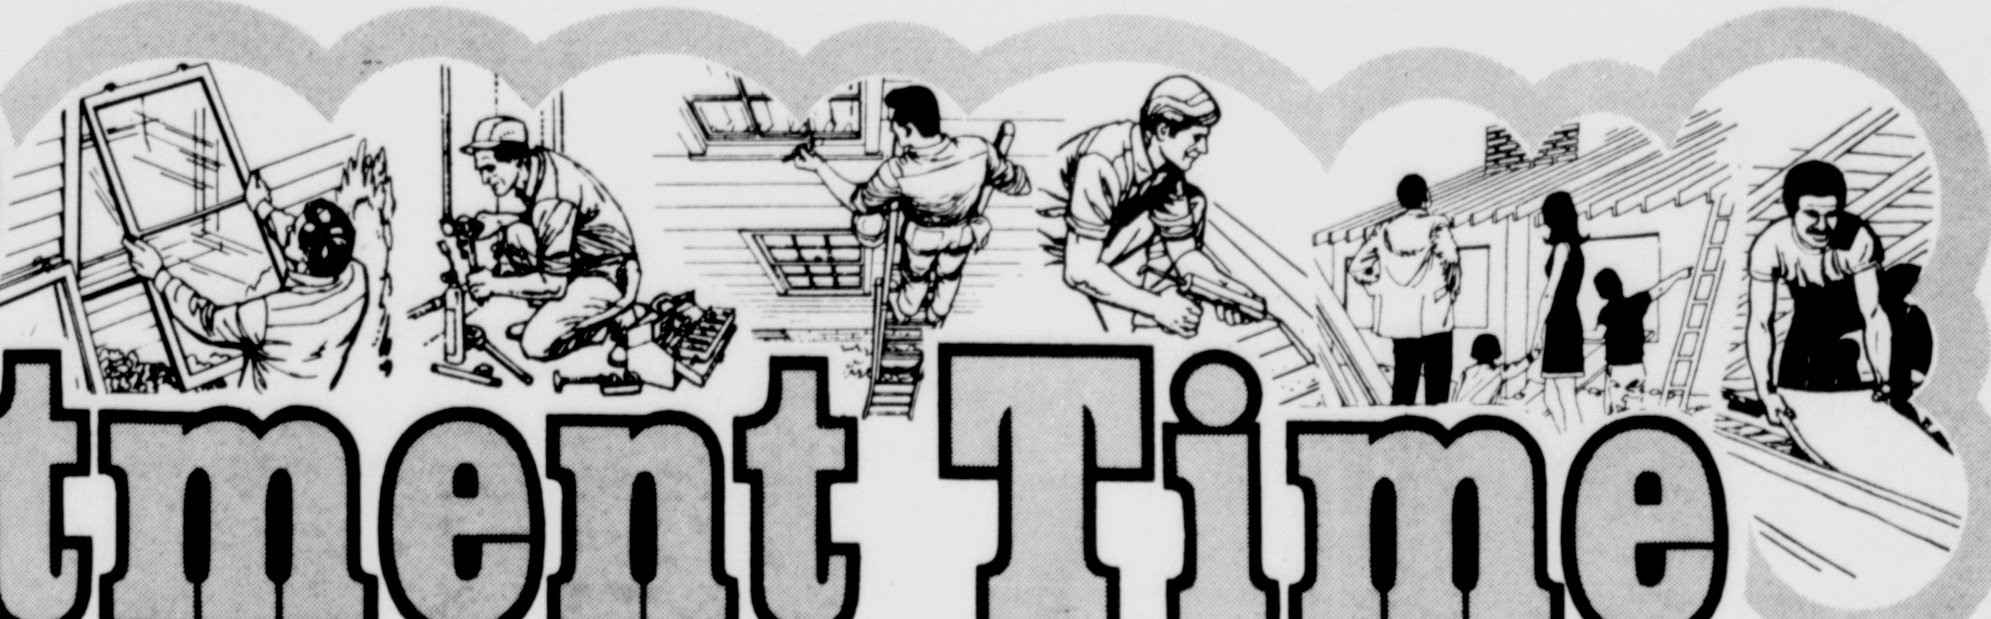

Stanfield, 60, told a news conference Wednesday that he would remain leader of the party, officially known as the Progressive Conservatives, until another person can be chosen. He declined to name a choice as his successor but said a French Canadian would be good for the party.

The party lost elections to the Liberals in 1967, 1972 and last July. Stanfield has been leader of the party since 1967.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

The old saying is "the mail must go through". Ever since the Post Office's change three years ago from a totally government operated office to a quasi-independent organization, the bewildered American taxpayer has been wondering just what it has to go through to get decent mail service in this country.

Instead of the promised efficiency, economy and speedy delivery, the American taxpayers who still subsidize a good bit of the operations, have received just the opposite. The Postal Service has upped the price of air and first class mail; decreased service for the same; experienced the first drop in volume of first class mail since the Depression; and anticipated it will be operating in the red to the tune of $475 million by the end of next June. On top of that, the Postal Service has begun hinting that it may seek another three cent hike in first class rates next year.

Before anything of the sort goes through, it is quite evident that there will have to be some changes made; otherwise, the fledgling Postal Service will certainly surpass its predecessor, the Post Office Department, in waste and obsolescence. Hearings are now underway in the House on ways to correct the many and costly problems facing the Postal Service.

Studies so far reveal that the mechanization process so gloriously heralded as the answer to slow delivery isn't working. Nothing has yet been developed to beat the system used in Ben Franklin's days for sorting mail, better known as pigeonholing. Yet, the Postal Service keeps trying, but its efforts and our money have been wasted on machines which are still in the trial and error stage. Moreover, a recent Government Accounting Office study reveals that there is a serious gap between theory and practice in mechanizing the mails. The machines, when they worked, could not handle all types of mail and rejected about 20 per cent of the selected pieces fed into it. Rejected mail is then delayed and contributes to increased costs since it must be handled a second time by conventional sorters.

Not only do some of the letters go through twice the processing to reach their destination; they also often go twice the distance or more just to be processed. Consider the letter with an actual destination of only a few miles. Often, it is carted many times that distance just to get bogged down in a mechanized collection center for processing. In fact, one study revealed that a piece of mail goes through approximately 47 processing steps, each one capable of delaying mail.

One of the most disturbing aspects of this whole Postal Service debacle is that with all its government money and increased rates for all classes of mail, it is losing money and falling far behind private competitors, particularly in the bulk mailing process. The Postal Service is building a billion dollar parcel sorting network in an effort to check its losses to competitors. This new system will still drop packages at least a foot — so the threat of damage still remains — and it is still slower than private systems. Nothing like tossing a billion dollars into an obsolete and inefficient system to catch up with your taxpaying competitors!

What makes this most infuriating is that Postal Service has so many advantages over private competitors I can't possibly see how it manages to lose so much money. The competition is all in its favor. Unlike private enterprise, the Postal Service pays no property tax which is a large component of overhead. It has even been expanding into peddling materials such as tape, twine and shipping bags for mailing purposes and has begun to sell other less postal oriented wares such as albums, souvenir cards, wall prints and copy machines. States lose the sales tax on these items which must be charged by competitors in private enterprise and in Postal Service saves any advertising costs with its free door to door deliveries. Yet, these same private entrepreneurs are forced to pay taxes which go to the Postal Service to provide competition against them. That hardly seems fair.

It's time all this window dressing be eliminated and some first class, first rate mail service rendered. The taxpayers don't have the money to subsidize a grossly mismanaged, incredibly inefficient system which obviously isn't getting the mail through on time.

Bad Running Stops Rangers

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Rangers died with their boots Wednesday night.

They made a lot of base-running mistakes and lost a 6-5 decision to the Milwaukee Brewers.

Three of their runners were thrown out trying to steal second, another was out trying to go from first to third on a single and still another was nailed at home.

Even an attempt suicide squeeze blew up in the Rangers' faces.

"That's the first time I've seen anything like that," said Milwaukee Manager Del Crandall.

Milwaukee catcher Darrell Porter was responsible for a lot of the Texas frustration. He threw out the three runners trying to steal, tagged one out sliding home on a great throw from right-fielder Dave May and contributed a big double in the eighth.

"It's the best game I've played this year," said Porter.

In other American League games, the Minnesota Twins edged the Cleveland Indians 1-0; the Baltimore Orioles stopped the Chicago White Sox 5-4; the Kansas City Royals whipped the Detroit Tigers 9-1; the California Angels blanked the Boston Red Sox 5-0 and the New York Yankees trimmed the Oakland A's 4-1.

Porter doubled home the tying run in the eighth inning and scored on Tim Johnson's pinch single to provide Milwaukee's win.

Twins 1, Indians 0

Led by the combined four-hit pitching of Joe Decker and Bill Campbell, Minnesota blanked Cleveland. The Twins scored their run in the top of the seventh when Glenn Borgmann hit a fly to deep left field, scoring Bobby Darwin from third.

Orioles 5, White Sox 4

Brian Downing's run-scoring single in the eighth inning lifted Chicago over Baltimore. Bill Melton, leading off the eighth, was hit by a pitch from Doyle Alexander, 5-9. He was sacrificed to second and scored on Downing's single.

Ken Henderson drove in the first three Chicago runs with a first inning single and a two-run homer in the sixth, his 14th.

Royals 9, Tigers 1

Steve Busby fired a five-hitter and Kansas City scored six runs in the first inning, three on Tony Solaita's homer, and went on to defeat Detroit. The victory was the Royals' sixth in their last seven outings, while the Tigers have dropped five of their last six.

Angels 5, Red Sox 0

Rookie Frank Tanana stopped Boston on seven hits, pitching the California Angels to a 5-0 victory over the Red Sox. Tanana, 8-14, hurled his first shutout of the year and his fourth victory in his last five decisions.

Yankees 4, A's 1

Elliott Maddox doubled home two runs in a three-run eighth inning, leading New York over Oakland A's.

Ashe Posts Buckeye Tennis Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — To Arthur Ashe, tennis is still one of the most formful sports.

"You can take any two guys here and I can tell you eight of 10 times who will win before they play," said the top seed of the Buckeye Tennis Championships.

"You can go through the entire draw and predict almost every winner," Ashe said Wednesday after eliminating New Zealand's Jeff Simpson, 6-1, 6-4 in an opening round match.

"This is a darned concentrated $50,000 tournament. It's tough. But there are only six players who have a good chance of winning," the Miami veteran added.

Ashe then listed the championship contenders, Tom Gorman, Roscoe Tanner, Raul Ramirez, Vijay Amritraj, Charlie Pasarell and himself.

To support Ashe's theory, all five seeded players in action breezed into the second round of 16.

Gorman, second-seeded, ousted Ashok Amritraj of India, 6-1, 6-4, while the No. 3 seeded Tanner beat Roy Barth of San Diego, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1 in a match that had been interrupted by rain the previous night.

Tanner, a 1974 winner at Denver, said, "This is the toughest $50,000 tournament of the year. There's no weak section in the draw."

Ramirez, the fourth seeded Mexican star, easily mastered Tom Leonard of Hollywood, Calif., 6-3, 6-2 and No. 8 Bob Lutz of Tiburon, Calif., trimmed Prim Lal of India, 6-1, 6-2.

In the only singles surprise of the first round, Bob Kreiss of Bel Air, Calif., spilled U.S. Davis Cupper Erik van Dillen of Aptos, Calif., 6-4, 6-3.

The tournament's first big upset came in doubles. Topseeded Tanner and Ashe fell to England's John Lloyd and Simpson, 1-6, 6-4, 7-7.

Double sessions will continue through Friday before the quarterfinals Saturday, the semifinals Sunday and the finals Monday night.

Bean Ball Fells Robinson

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Atlanta's Craig Robinson, hit in the jaw by a pitch from Montreal's Dennis Blair Wednesday night, had more than his mouth bruised by the ball.

Although X rays showed that Robinson's jaw was not broken and he was able to return to Atlanta Stadium to see the end of the Braves' 6-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos, he was a very disillusioned young man.

"When I was lying there on the ground, there wasn't a thing I liked about major league baseball," said Robinson. "If that's major league baseball, I'm ashamed of it and don't want any part of it."

Immediately before Robinson was hit, Dusty Baker had slammed a three-run homer off Blair and Dave Johnson had hit a solo homer.

Then in the ninth, with the Braves holding a five-run lead and two out, Braves pitcher Carl Morton (who had just hit Tim Foli), received a warning and an automatic $50 fine.

Elsewhere in the National League, New York trimmed Los Angeles 3-2, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-4, Chicago edged Houston 6-5, Cincinnati nipped Pittsburgh 3-2 in 10 innings and St. Louis defeated San Diego 5-1.

Morton, 12-7, scattered eight hits to give the Braves their sixth consecutive victory, Atlanta's longest winning streak of the season.

Hank Aaron's two-run homer in the seventh capped Atlanta's scoring. It was his 16th home run of the season and 729th of his career.

Giants 6, Phils 4

Bobby Bonds' 17th home run of the season, a two-run shot with two out in the ninth, gave the Giants the victory over Philadelphia.

Mets 3, Dodgers 2

The Mets completed a three-game sweep over Los Angeles by scoring two runs in the ninth inning off the Dodgers' ace reliever, Mike Marshall. The tying run scored on Tom Paciorek's two-base error, the winning tally came on Rusty Staub's single.

Cubs 6, Astros 5

Chicago scored four runs in the first inning, then added two more in the seventh to snap an eight-game losing streak.

In the seventh, the Cubs extended their lead to 6-3.

Reds 3, Pirates 2

Cesar Geronimo's run-scoring double in the 10th inning boosted Cincinnati to victory.

Dave Concepcion singled to lead off the 10th and ended up on second when Willie Stargell couldn't field the ball cleanly. One out later, Geronimo delivered his RBI double.

Cardinals 5, Padres 1

Alan Foster's six-hit pitching helped the Cards move 1½ games in front of Philadelphia and 2½ in front of Pittsburgh in the NL East. Reggie Smith's 17th home run of the year and his second in two games capped a five-run fifth inning burst.

New York Stars Wallop Portland

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

Dick Coury, coach of the winless Portland Storm, indulged in a little post-game analysis Wednesday night after watching his team absorb a 28-16 thumping at the hands of the New York Stars.

"They beat the devil out of us," said Coury. "We simply do not have a very good football team and we're not improving."

New York quarterback Tom Sherman got the Stars rolling early by throwing for two touchdowns and running for another as the Stars built a 30-0 halftime lead. Sherman shared Coury's opinion of the Storm.

Elsewhere in the WFL, Birmingham rocked Hawaii 39-0, Chicago shaded Philadelphia 32-29, Florida defeated Jacksonville 33-26 and Memphis whipped Detroit 37-7.

Southern California is at Houston in tonight's television game.

Sherman completed 11 of 18 passes for 144 yards for New York, including touchdown tosses of 20 and three yards to George Sauer. Sauer hauled in seven passes for 92 yards.

The Storm is 0-5-1 while New York has won four straight after dropping the first two. About 14,000 paying fans saw the game.

Birmingham 39, Hawaii 0

The Americans, scoring from long range, maintained their position as the WFL's only unbeaten team. Willie Smith raced 81 yards on a punt return and George Mira teamed with Alfred Jenkins on a 95-yard pass play for a pair of Birmingham TDs. The Hawaiians, who had four passes intercepted, fell to 1-5.

A crowd of 43,297 paid watched the game in Birmingham.

Chicago 32, Philadelphia 29

Quarterback Virgil Carter threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to Jack Dolbin with 1:34 remaining to give the Fire its fifth victory in six tries. Cyril Pinder and Mark Kellar rushed for a combined 263 yards for the winners. King Corcoran threw for two TDs and ran for a third for the Bell.

Announced paid attendance in Chicago was 27,607.

Florida 33, Jacksonville 26

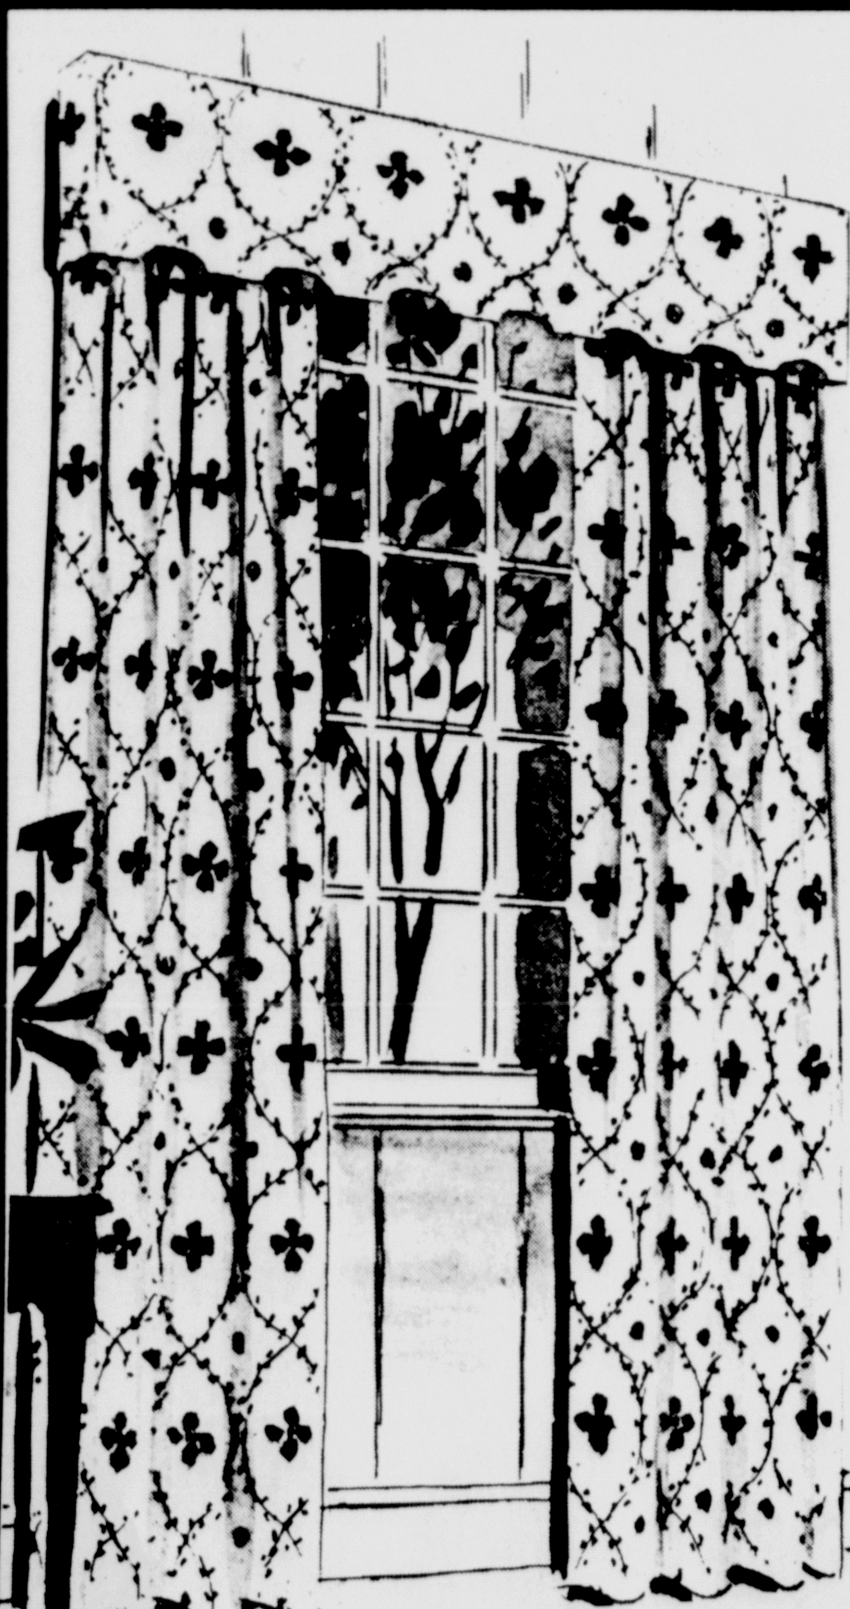

Jim Strong scored twice on short runs and halfback Tommy Reamon hooked up with Matt Maslowski on a 51-yard pass play for Florida. The Blazers, 5-1, lead the Eastern Division. Jacksonville rookie Reggie Oliver ran for one TD and passed seven yards to Tom Whittier for another.

Attendance at the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando was announced at 21,212 paid.

Memphis 37, Detroit 7

J.J. Jennings ran for 113 yards on 24 carries for the Southmen, who raised their record to 4-2. Willie Spencer scored on a pair of one-yard runs for Memphis. Bubba Wyche sneaked one yard for the lone Detroit score. The Wheels are now 0-6.

The game was played before 14,424 fans in Ypsilanti, Mich. and Wheels' officials said "a handful" of complimentary tickets had been given out.

Daley Still Calls Shots In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, boss of the nation's biggest urban political machine for 20 years, has been away from City Hall for 100 days. But aides say he still firmly holds the keys to power.

Kennedy To Speak For Luken

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is the first of an indicated throng of big political names expected to appear in the hotly contested First Congressional District race here this November.

Kennedy will be the keynote speaker Sept. 12 at a fund-raising dinner at the Hartwell Country Club for U. S. Rep. Thomas Luken.

A spokesman for Luken, who has heavy backing from the AFL-CIO, said more than 1,000 persons are expected for the fund-raiser.

Luken again will be opposed by Willis Gradison Jr., a Republican, who lost to Luken in a special election in March. U. S. Rep. William Keating, R-Ohio, resigned the seat in January to become president of The Cincinnati Enquirer.

Luken is only the third Democrat to win the seat this century in a heavily Republican area. Both he and Gradison are former Cincinnati mayors.

The special election last spring was one of six in the U. S. for a congressional race. It drew national attention because of the national issues debated, including Watergate, abortion, inflation and integrity in government.

It was considered a forerunner of congressional elections this fall.

The race drew many big political names for both sides. The Republicans brought in such notables as then Vice President Gerald R. Ford, former U. S. Atty. Gen. Elliott Richardson and U. S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

U. S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., U. S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, and U. S. Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., were among those speaking for Luken.

Study Scheduled On Reclamation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A one-year study on a new method for reclaiming strip mines is planned by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center.

William B. Nye, director of the Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday the joint study will involve the addition of sewage sludge, cement dust and fly ash to barren strip-mined land in Noble County.

The $20,000 project will be funded by the department, Ohio State University, the American Electric Power Co., the Monongahela Power Co., the U.S. Bureau of Mines and the National Ash Association, Inc.

When the U.S. Civil War began, Arkansas Gov. Henry Rector refused to provide troops for the Union Army.

Youngsters Try To Save 200-Year-Old Redwood

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A band of pint-sized foresters is struggling to save the life of Little Brother, a mammoth, 200-year-old redwood tree in Northern California's Muir Woods.

Last winter, flood waters from a nearby creek undermined the shallow roots of the 100-foot tree and it appeared in danger of toppling.

The 125 children, ranging in age from 5 to 15, discovered the threat to the big redwood, which measures 20 feet in circumference, while on an outing from Mill Valley's Hillwood Academic Day School early last month.

Since then they have been working in shifts of about 15 two and three days a week to save the forest giant.

Using adult tools shortened to their length, the little woodsmen first restored the soil washed away last winter.

Now they are building four stone dams on the creek which will divert the stream flow away from the tree. They also hope the dams will allow soil carried by the creek to build up and form a natural barrier against future erosion of the root area.

"I've never seen the children so happy and involved," says Mary Libra, director of the Hillwood school. "They call the tree Little Brother. To them this is a project to save a friend."

"When you ask them why they're helping Little Brother they say because he's a living thing and wants to live like we want to. They say they want to bring their grandchildren here some day to show how they helped save him."

The area where Little Brother is growing has been added to Muir Woods National Monument by Congress, but it will not be officially under government ownership until late fall, preventing the Department of Interior from stepping in to help save the tree until that time.

Mrs. Libra said the school asked for and received a $650 grant from the Bank of America to purchase the stones used for the dams.

Muir Woods is a nationally recognized stand of huge old redwood trees north of the Golden Gate Bridge.

Rhodes Hits Statehouse

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Former Gov. James A. Rhodes castigated the administration of Gov. John J. Gilligan on Wednesday for its failure to predict a huge tax surplus and called on the governor to give most of the money to the state's public schools.

Citing the Gilligan administration's failure to predict a $80 million budget surplus and a possible $108 million in unanticipated tax revenue, Rhodes accused the administration of financial mismanagement.

"If sound fiscal management procedures were being used, this huge amount of money could easily have been predicted," Rhodes told newsmen before addressing the Willoughby Chamber of Commerce.

Rhodes said the state's public schools were "plunging toward chaos" and that state aid should be increased $30 per pupil.

Such an increase would cost an estimated $68 million, according to state Supt. of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex.

The $80 million surplus for fiscal 1974 was used partially to raise per pupil expenditures $20.

Rhodes also said state income tax exemptions for dependents should be raised from $500 to $750 and that Ohio Lottery revenue should be shared with local governments.

Rhodes also said he favors former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for vice president but has not wired that preference to President Ford.

Shirley MacLain Doesn't Show Up

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Actress Shirley MacLaine left about 1,500 persons standing at the door when she failed to appear for a performance of her show, "If They Could See Me Now."

Miss MacLaine was reportedly upset over the sound system in Chrysler Hall here.

City officials who operate the theater said on Tuesday, "Tonight everything's working fine, but we haven't got a star."

Miss MacLaine's show, which opened recently in Las Vegas, Nev.,

was scheduled to run through Saturday.

The Tarlton Firemen's Fun Day will be held Saturday featuring games that will start at 10 a.m. The baked goods contest will begin at 11 a.m. and the firemen's water fight at 1 p.m.

Line up for the 6:30 p.m. parade will be at 5 at the post office. There will be a fish fry and flea market throughout the day with the queen judging immediately following the parade at the platform in the park.

The Lutheran Friendship Circle of St. Jacob's Church will meet at Old Man's Cave parking lot picnic grounds for a picnic supper on Aug. 22 beginning at 6 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer attended the wedding of Miss Nedra J. Dresbach and Mr. David Betts at the Circleville Lutheran Church on Friday evening.

Lordstown Bargaining Continues

LORDSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Bargaining between General Motors Corp. and striking United Auto Workers was to resume at 9 a.m. today with the talks virtually stalemated over remaining grievances and local contract issues, the union said.

The issues could be settled in one day "if both sides start giving," said Marlin Ford, president of striking Local 1112.

Asked if the union would start the giving, Ford replied, "Never have yet."

He could not name the issues stalling progress for fear of jeopardizing the union's position, he said.

He said no progress was made Wednesday. On Tuesday, a union spokesman said about 2,000 grievances and 15 items of local working conditions remained to be settled.

"We're down to where we have to have the rest of the remaining issues, and I guess GM feels the same way," Ford said.

About 7,800 members of the local walked off the job July 12 when no contract was reached on local issues. The negotiations have been going on since last fall.

The walkout has halted assembly lines producing Chevrolet Vegas and van trucks and forced slowdowns in plants supplying parts for GM's assembly division.

The company's director of public relations here, John Grix, said the strike has cost the workers $11 million in wages and the company about $6,000 autos.

Meetings Scheduled In Wildcat Strike

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — More meetings were scheduled today between union and company representatives in an effort to end a wildcat strike by about 5,000 employees at two International Harvester Co. plants here and one in Urbana.

The United Auto Workers union members walked off their jobs to protest the dismissal of two shop stewards and suspension of some 40 employees.

The high will push eastward to Maine by Saturday and a storm system in the Plains states will reach the western Great Lakes area.

Showers and thunderstorms presently in the Plains will move into northern Ohio by late Friday and over much of the state Friday night and Saturday.

Temperatures will be mostly in the 80s today and Friday, cooling into the 60s tonight. Skies remained clear over Ohio as temperatures cooled early Thursday into the 50s in the north and 60s in the south sections. No precipitation was reported in the state during the night.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Are you trying to squeeze in all the ice cream making and trips to King's Island plus late night fun before summer's end? We hope part of getting ready for school will include a trip to the library to help the kids brush up on reading skills.

If you think Dick, Jane and Spot offer little interest for quieter moments, check our detective stories for second graders. "Nate the Great" solves the mystery of the missing picture drawn by his best friend. The author is a wizard at getting down kids' thoughts as they really are.

Cat lovers will adore the familiar poses of their pets in "My Cat Has Eyes of Sapphire Blue." The verses gleefully describe the antics of these fascinating creatures. Children who have never experienced milking time in the barn will enjoy the photographs in "Look at a Calf" by professional photographer, Dale Wright. Ms. Wright has captured the simple delights of the farm as a way of life that one day may be gone.

Other easy readers tells of the wonders of nature in simple terms. "Bees", "Sleep" and "Dinosaurs" are among the appealing titles.

For children who like realism, there is a series of books featuring on the scene photographs of people at work. Titles include "What It's Like to be a Doctor", "What It's Like to be an Airline Pilot" and a book about firemen. Third graders should be able to read these with a little help.

Another new title in the series of frontier personalities is "Daniel Boone", one of our authentic heroes. The Shawnee Indians became his enemies after an attempted kidnapping of his daughter. This may rekindle some heated arguments about the relationships between white men and our native Americans. Strictly light-hearted are "Gus Was A Friendly Ghost" and "The Piggy in the Puddle." The piggy book is in rhythmic verse with words like ooey-poofy and mooshy-squoshy. Kids will love to say the verses aloud, but bear in mind that you may have to listen.

And for all the mothers who loved Pooh bear there is another gentle bear who will win over your children. "Little Bear's Friend" is tender and quaint and quietly lovely with pictures by Maurice Sendak. It could be read aloud, a short chapter at a time. It might also serve as independent reading as it is only 60 pages long.

Interest your children in reading; it could be one of the great pleasures of his life.

Mayor Perk Has Unpaid Phone Bill

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—City records show that 244 apparently personal long-distance telephone calls made from Mayor Ralph J. Perk's office have not been paid for.

The bills, released by city Finance Director Warren Riebe, total $343.99. The city hall telephone directory states that only city business calls can be charged, adding that violators would be breaking federal law.

Riebe said he did not know whether Perk and his assistants have been billed for the calls, some of which date back 19 months. He said that as long as the personal calls are paid for, no one would be prosecuted.

The mayor was in Washington, D.C., and could not be reached for comment. Some of the calls were made to the Republican National Committee in Washington, Ohio GOP headquarters in Columbus, local Republican Party chiefs and fund raisers around the state. Perk has said no partisan political activity goes on at the office. The mayor is running for the U.S. Senate.

Court Order Sought To Play Football

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)—Philip Luginbuhl, a 17-year-old Bluffton High School student who has been on the varsity team the past two seasons, is seeking a court order permitting him to play again this year.

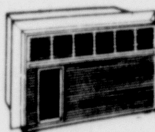

Luginbuhl was barred from the team because he got married. A 1960 school board ruling prohibits married students from taking part in extra-curricular activities.

Luginbuhl contends in his suit that the rule violates his rights. In addition to a court order permitting him to play football, Luginbuhl's suit asks $25,000 damages.

Views On Television Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood has Rona Barrett to keep track of that town's world's famous, near-famous and infamous. But who is on duty in Nashville? Georgia Twitty, that's who.

A cheerful, pleasant-voiced lady of 40, she runs "Georgia Twitty's Music City Hotline," a radio gossip show that covers events and personalities in Nashville's pop and country music scene.

It's been on the air five years. By her count, it currently is heard on 104 stations. She tapes 18 one-minute shows per week.

Miss Twitty, a native of Florence, Ala., who said she was educated at Randolph-Macon College in Lynchburg, Va., and at Memphis State, says she doesn't try to spice her show with lurid stories about the stars.

For one thing, it might anger the stars' fans. For another, she says, "I think the country music audience, even though it's pretty cosmopolitan nowadays, is tired of 'who is sleeping with whom.'"

She says the fans tend to prefer detailed reports on the more innocent aspects of life among country music performers — what they eat, what sports they like, how they dress at home and so forth.

But she says she also chronicles stronger stuff, such as Music City feuds or romances. The latter, she adds, always are handled obliquely when the parties involved in the romancing are married to other parties.

Her pet peeve, she says, is a tendency of some country music performers to suddenly get religion amid much fanfare when they've gone without a hit record for several years.

In most cases, she says, this is purely a publicity ploy aimed at reviving a fading career. To the less sophisticated fans, she says, this approach "gets 'em in the gut every time."

How does she compare herself with Hollywood's Rona Barrett?

"I think we're both knowledgeable about our work," said Miss Twitty.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Whether in the role of spectator or activist, you can greatly influence others now, so be sure that your aims and procedures are sound, feasible and realistic.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A good period. Brighten your program with something special, something outside your regular routine. But DO avoid impulsiveness.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): What is expedient may not be the best for all concerned so, as with Aries, be careful of the route you select. Take nothing for granted.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Some misleading influences. Don't let others throw you off pace with ideas of doubtful worth—especially if they involve heavy spending.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Neither routine nor other matters may turn out as planned, but overcoming difficulties is your forte. Plan each move step by step; weigh pros and cons.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You may be the day with fervor, then become stymied in unexpected areas. Move slowly enough to recognize pitfalls.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Stellar influences stimulate your enthusiastic, spirited efforts. A day in which to do your best. If your path is blocked, try another route. Don't let others discourage you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Even though your schedule may be crowded, don't overlook details through haste. Seemingly minor factors could be most important to the overall picture of a successful day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Generally you react to a situation brightly. Keep in form now. Planetary aspects stimulate quick thinking, new ideas and plans.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Stress your first-rate initiative and all-around capability now. And, as with Libra, pay no heed to interfering persons.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Watch trends and join forces with those who have a stake in the common welfare.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Decide upon your course carefully, then attack objectives with vigor. Accommodate to necessary changes, of course, but emphasize stick-to-itiveness. YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a colorful personality, unusual versatility and lofty ambitions.

GOOD 'OL DAYS—Cathy Kifer, (left), Route 1, Stoutsville, and Shirley Lear, (right), Route 4, stop for a rest after taking an afternoon ride Wednesday, in Cathy's buggy. The two girls just wanted to go for a ride into town and so to conserve gas, got out the buggy. The original Amish buggy and harness were purchased, from the Amish, in Millersburg. Cathy said she checked with the Sheriff's and Police Departments before harnessing Jebony, the three-year-old horse to the buggy.

Local Plants May Get Water Control Permits

The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (Ohio EPA) announced Tuesday that it proposes to issue water pollution control permits to the Circleville Sewage Treatment plant and E.I. DuPont DeNemours and Company's Circleville plant, specifying and limiting their discharge of pollutants into the Scioto River.

All industries, municipalities, and other sources of water pollution must apply for National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) permits under Public Law 92-500.

The permits contain compliance schedules requiring the source to reduce pollutants over a specified time period and enables any concerned citizen to find out what is being discharged and what is required of the facility. Ohio received authorization to issue the water pollution control permits from the federal government on March 11.

The Ohio EPA's proposal to issue NPDES permits is based upon a preliminary staff review and application of state water pollution standards and regulations.

The decision to issue the permits to the Circleville Treatment plant and nine other applicants will become final Oct. 21 and the decision on the DuPont Plant and seven other applicants Oct. 24 unless an appeals hearing is requested by the applicant.

The director of the agency may also withdraw and revise the proposed permits after consideration of the record of a public meeting, written comments, or disapproval by the U.S. EPA.

Written comments on the proposed permits may be submitted until Aug. 22. Comments may be sent to the Ohio EPA, NPDES Permits Section, P.O. Box 1049, 361 E. Broad St., Columbus, Ohio 43216.

The Ohio EPA permit number and public notice number should be included on the envelope and on each page of submitted comments. A hearing may be held if sufficient public interest about the permit is shown.

The permit application, fact sheet, proposed permit, special conditions, and other documents are available for inspection at the Ohio EPA in Columbus.

Permit number for the Circleville Treatment plant is D903AD. Public notice number is OEPA 74-07-094.

Permit number for the DuPont plant is F401AD. Public notice number is OEPA 74-07-114.

GTC Completes Major Cable Addition Here

A major cable addition for growth in the Circleville exchange has been completed, according to General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

William D. Anderson, Circleville customer service manager, said the $31,100 expansion will provide for upgrading present services and for future growth in the area.

The new cable will boost facilities in the south urban area and along Route 23. More than 20,000 feet of cable was used in the project.

"This job was not affected by the construction curtailment, which was recently announced by the company," Anderson said. "This is due to the fact that this project was well under way prior to the budget cuts."

The Circleville exchange serves 11,958 telephones in a 187.4 square-mile area of Pickaway and Fairfield Counties.

Firemen Dispatched By False Alarm

The Circleville Fire Department dispatched at 2:20 p.m. Wednesday to the Big Bear Supermarket, 1180 N. Court St. but found the call was a false alarm. A cooling unit had stopped in the banana storage room and with the heat buildup, the heat sensor system set off the alarm which is connected to the fire department.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Dan Dewey cited George W. Hardbarger, 19, Route 1, Ashville, for reckless operation, when he was involved in a single-car accident 6:05 p.m. Wednesday, on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road.

Hardbarger was travelling east on Harrisburg-Fairfield when he went left of center and off the road striking a mailbox, continuing into a ditch.

Hardbarger tried unsuccessfully to get the vehicle out of the ditch.

Eighteen-year-old Jack A. Ballard, Route 2, Ashville, was admitted to Berger Hospital for head and possible internal injuries, sustained in a two-car accident 7:40 p.m. on Route 316.

According to the report taken by Deputy Lawrence Holt, a car driven by Timothy D. Morgan, Route 2, Ashville, stopped for a two-way stop sign at the intersection of 316 and Circleville-Commercial Point Road.

Morgan proceeded through the intersection when he struck Ballard's vehicle, west bound on 316, in the left side.

The Ballard vehicle went off the road striking an electric pole, snapping off the top of the pole, coming to rest on its top.

Morgan's auto continued through the intersection also striking the electric pole.
